To FIDE Executive Board

A proposal to change Olympiad Regulations

1. The proposal is meant to ease the financial obligations of potential organisers and also to create a new source of income to FIDE.
2. It is proposed to cut the number of rounds in the Olympiad to 11 and the total number of days to 14.
3. Simultaneously, titles regulations will be changed so that a player, who played minimum number of 9 games in the Olympiad, can count it as 12 games for the purpose of getting a title.
4. It is proposed that all Federations except CACDEC will pay to the Organisers the sum of USD 25 per person per day for accommodation.
5. A preliminary condition for getting the right to hold an Olympiad and Congress will be a fee of USD 350.000 to FIDE.

(Our estimation is that compared to the current situation, an Olympiad Organiser will save at least a double amount, including the payments from Federation).

6. It is suggested that the Executive Board in Halkidiki will decide about the timetable of implementing these changes.
