5. Fair-Play Measures

5. 1. The fair-play measures are based on resources of Chess24.com and follow FIDE's fair-play guidelines. The anti-cheating algorithm used is to be approved by GSC.

5. 2. GSC in consultation with Chess24.com establish a fair-play panel (hereinafter referred to as FPP). The FPP consists of the Chief Arbiter and the following fair-play experts: FIDE Fair-Play Commission members, the fair-play experts of Chess24.com, computer scientists and statisticians, chess grandmasters.

5. 3. FPP works to ensure fair results for each game. FPP may apply any measures that it considers necessary and sufficient in order to ensure fair-play conditions during the tournament.

5. 4. All the players required to be observed via a video conference call by FIDE-affiliated international arbiters for the duration of the tournament. Observation shall include: webcam, screen share, desk scan, and other requirements per Chess24.com standards. The full and detailed list of necessary technical requirements is to be communicated to all the players by May 10th.

5. 5. Based upon the results of the anti-cheating algorithm and/or other evidence deemed sufficient by FPP to establish a cheating incident, FPP has the right to disqualify any player for a suspected fair-play violation during the course of the tournament. The disqualified player may be declared lost in all the games he played. The decision of FPP to disqualify a player for a suspected fair-play violation is final and not subject to any appeal, review or other challenge.

5. 6. Neither FIDE, nor Chess24.com claims that the determination of a suspected fair-play violation is proof of actual cheating or an admission of guilt of by the disqualified or the banned player. Such a determination shall not affect the ordinary status of the player for over-the-board competitions within the jurisdiction of FIDE or its members, unless FPP decides in the case of a clear or gross violation, or repeated violations, to refer the matter to the FIDE Ethics and Disciplinary Commission which may exclude the player from all official chess participation for a period up to 15 years.

5. 7. By entering into the tournament each player accepts the above-mentioned Fair-Play measures as a condition of entry in a voluntary sports event and agrees that his or her participation takes place subject to these Fair-Play measures.

6. Technical Issues

Rules that apply in the case of technical problems:

If the disconnect is determined by Chess24.com to be caused by factors under the player's control and the disconnect occurs mid-game, the player's clock continues to run as normal until time has expired. Chess24.com should be in touch with the players via digital communication methods and attempt to guide them through reconnection. In the event the player is not able to reconnect during the game in which he/she have disconnected, Chess24.com will continue its efforts until the next round has begun. Chess24.com may, in their sole determination, decide to postpone the round until a later time.

If the fault is a server error or other error not in the player's control (natural disaster, widespread power outage, etc.), Chess24.com will recreate the current position and will reset clocks to the proper time from before the outage or error took place. Upon doing so, the game should continue as normal. In the event the error is not resolved within 1 hour, Chess24.com may, at their sole determination, decide to postpone the round until a later time.

The Chief Arbiter may decide otherwise in exceptional circumstances.

If any extraordinary cases should arise, the Chief Arbiter should make an appropriate ruling, always in accordance with the letter and spirit of the FIDE Laws of Chess.

Players may appeal against a decision by the Chief Arbiter within twenty minutes after the end of the relative game.

The appeal shall be reviewed by the Appeals Committee as soon as possible and its decision is final.

The Appeals Committee is announced in due time and before the start of the event.
