

Regulations for the 2009-2010 Women's FIDE Grand-Prix

1. Introduction

1.1. Following the approval of the Presidential Board in Athens 2008, Global Chess BV and FIDE have worked on the Regulations for the Women's World Championship Cycle for 2009/2010. Global Chess will be responsible for locating one or several title sponsors for the six tournaments and for the Challenge match at the end of the Series. The host city may seek alternative sponsorship from business industries not in conflict with the main business activity carried out by the title sponsor.

Together with FIDE, Global Chess will work and assist in the search and selection process of the host cities. The offer of each respective host city will be evaluated in terms of location, accessibility, and quality of conditions.

1.2. Governing Body: the World Chess Federation (FIDE). For the purpose of creating the regulations, communicating with the players and negotiating with the organisers, the President has nominated a committee, hereby called the World Chess Championship Committee (WCCC) who will co-operate with Global Chess BV.

1.3. FIDE, or its appointed commercial agency, retains all commercial and media rights of the Grand-Prix, including internet rights.

1.4. The body responsible for any changes to these Regulations is the FIDE Presidential Board.

2. Format of the Women's Grand Prix 2009-2010

The Grand Prix will be a series of six tournaments held over two years (2009-2010) in leading world cities. The bidding process for the final selection of cities will commence in June 2008 and be finalized by Dresden Congress, November 2008.

The timing of evaluating and contracting host city offers will be very important particularly at the start of the series. Offers to host and contract three tournaments over the next six years (i.e. three cycles – for 2009/10, 2011/2 and 2013/4) will be given preference.

18 top world players will be selected to compete in these tournaments. Each player agrees and will contract to participate in exactly 4 of these tournaments. Players must rank their preference of tournaments once the final list of host cities is announced and the dates are allocated to each host city.

FIDE reserves the right to assign players to tournaments according to the organizational needs and the players for each tournament will be announced before the cycle begins.

Each tournament will have 12 players playing over a schedule of seventeen days. The months allocated for the organisation of the Grand Prix tournaments are March, June and September of each respective year. These months have been selected to ensure there is no conflict with any other major event.

In view of an objective of harmonisation of the FIDE chess calendar, the months for the Grand Prix for 2009/2010 are fixed as above, and the World Cup will be scheduled to meet the timing of the Grand Prix series.

The winner of the Grand Prix series at the end of 2010 will play the Women World Champion in the third quarter of 2011 in a ten game match for the Women's World Championship title. Should the overall winner of the Grand Prix also be the World Champion at the end of the Grand Prix series in 2010, then the Challenger rights will go to the second placed overall in the Grand Prix.

3. Qualifiers for the Grand Prix 2009-2010

The players who qualify for selection to play in the Grand Prix will be chosen on the following prioritized basis :

3.1 QUALIFICATION. The FIDE World Championship in 2008 will be used to determine four qualifiers for the 2009/10 Grand Prix Series. These will be the final four players who have qualified to the semi final stages of the World Championship.

3.2 RATING. Based on an average calculation to two decimal places, of the October 2008 rating list and the October 2007 rating list in the year prior to start of the cycle, six qualifiers will be selected. If players have the same average rating, the number of games played between January 2008 and September 2008 (rating period) will be used to determine ranking.

To ensure active participation in the future, a minimum of twenty five (25) games is being recommended in the four rating lists including and prior to the October rating list in the year of qualification i.e. 2008, 2010 or 2012. If any player does not accept to play in the Grand Prix series, then the selection process using the average rating plus number of games played in the rating period will be adopted, until the number of qualifiers required for the Grand Prix is completed.

3.3 PRESIDENT NOMINEES. The FIDE President may nominate two players and they must be rated among the top 40 players in the world as per the October 2008 rating list. Nominated players must not be from the same country although they may come from countries where players have already qualified under prior criteria.

3.4 HOST CITY NOMINEES. One player may be nominated by each host city and must be rated not less than 2300 in the last rating list prior to the final nomination or selection of players. If the host city does not have a player rated at least 2300 then the highest rated player from the Federation of the host city will be invited to play, subject to her rating not being lower than 2250.

The WCCC will coordinate with Global Chess and with all the host cities, in the allocation of players, should there be a conflict in the number of players in their ranking of preference of host cities. FIDE is not obliged, but will do its utmost to respect the players' preferences, and will balance the player allocation to a host city according to predetermined criteria such as average tournament rating, piece colour, continental representation, etc.

4. Tournament Format

4.1 In each tournament the 12 players shall play a round robin tournament of 11 rounds. The drawing of colours shall be done in rating order.

The drawing of numbers/colours in the opening ceremony will be split into “whites” and “blacks”, based on the announced colours prior to the series start, in order to balance as much as possible the number of total whites/blacks that a player receives during the whole Grand-Prix.

4.2 If a player withdraws after completing 50% or more of the games, the rest of her games are lost by default. In case a player completes less than 50%, all her results are annulled.

4.3 Time control: for each player 90 minutes for the first 40 moves, followed by 30 minutes for the rest of the game with an increment of 30 seconds per move from move one.

4.4 During the game a player may only talk to an arbiter or communicate with a steward. Appropriate sporting behaviour is expected from all participants and FIDE rules of conduct are to be strictly followed at all times.

Players will not be allowed to offer draws directly to their opponents. Any draw claim will be permitted only through the Chief Arbiter in the following cases:

- a triple-repetition of the position (article 9.2 of the Laws of Chess),
- a perpetual check,
- in theoretically drawn position and
- the 50 moves rules (article 9.3 of the Laws of Chess).

The Chief Arbiter may consult with the Technical Adviser before accepting any claim by players for a draw. The Chief Arbiter is the only authority who can acknowledge the final result of the game in these cases.

4.5 The Technical Adviser must have the title of GM (or WGM if a woman), rated not less than 2400, who has held the title for at least five years and is an active player as defined by the rating system.

4.6 Tie breaks for each tournament:

All prizes and GP ranking points are shared equally, in cases of any tied position/s. No tie break system will be utilised for the individual GP tournaments. The process of determining the overall winner of the series, in the case of a tie, is defined in Article 7.2

6.3 In the case of any withdrawal prior to two weeks before the commencement of the series, FIDE will replace the player who has withdrawn with the next highest rated player in the rating list as calculated in Article 3.3. This player will accept the withdrawn player's GP tournament schedule in its entirety.

6.4 If a player withdraws from the GP for any reason whatsoever, less than two weeks prior to the commencement of the GP series or even during the series, then FIDE reserves the right to select one or more players, as may be required, to compete 'hors concours' in the withdrawn player's GP tournament schedule. The replacement players selected will be from the top 40 players and will only compete for the prize money within the specific tournament. They will not earn ranking points and their results will be used for any potential tie-break as specified under Article 7.2.2. The players selected will be varied from tournament to tournament and no replacement player will participate in more than one event.
