4. FIDE/TRG Academies: The Council examined Academies' applications as follows:

The Council reminds the Applications that were approved on the Barcelona Meeting (16-17.05.2014) but they were omitted by a technical mistake in the Agenda:

- 4.1. By the 'Tunisian International Chess Academy' (Tunis - Tunisia). The Council endorses the application.
- 4.2. By the 'USCF FIDE Academy' (Crossville - USCF). The Council endorses the application.

The Council examined a new Academy Application:

- 4.3. By the 'English Chess Federation FIDE Academy' (Battle - East Sussex - England * Annexes: TRG-05-ECF FIDE Academy Application 1 & 2). The Council endorses the application.
- 4.4. By the 'Global Chess Academy' (Minsk - Belarus * Annex: TRG-05-GCA FIDE Academy Application). The Council endorses the application.

Finally, the Council re-examined the case of the 'UKCA' and the complains and comments of the English Chess Federation. TRG 22.07.2014 Minutes on the case were:

4.5. By the 'UK Chess Academy' (London - England * Appendix: TRG-04-Application Academy-UKCA 1 & 2 & 3). The Council endorses the application. Note that the ECF didn't answer to the UKCA Application and the latter appealed to TRG.

The relative Annexes are: TRG-05-ECF TRG E-mails - TRG-05-ECF Kasparov Statement - TRG-05-ECF to UKCA FIDE Academy 1 & 2 - TRG-05-UKCA Info 1 & 2 & 3 & 4 & 5.

The Council rejected the ECF statements as false, inappropriate and insulting. No changes should be made at the present stage, until the appointed TRG Sub-Commission (U.Boensch, M.Khodarkovsky & J.Petronic) will review the Academy Regulations on the coming September/October and suggest changes/additions for the next PB.

5. Various: The Chairman informed the Council on the following subjects:

5.1. Report: On his recent activities (Annex: TRG-06-Chairman Report).

5.2. Italian Blind CA: On the relative letter (Annex: TRG-07-Italian Blind CA).

5.3. TRG Sub-Commission on Chess Research: On the relative letter (Annex: TRG-08-Chess Research Commission). The Council decided to accept the proposal and nominate (provisionally) a new TRG sub-commission. A later decision will be made on the financial part.

5.4. Olympiad Captains: The Council understands that many Team Captains haven't been informed on their licencing duties, due mostly to bad communication with federations. Therefore, the Council believes that in the present Olympiad the Regulations shouldn't been forced but rather be more elastic, given the opportunities to explain in detail the Regulations.

All Council's decisions/proposals will come in force after the next FIDE GA approval. Minutes will be posted on TRG's website. The Annexes will not be posted before their approval by the next FIDE GA. No financial part will be published on the internet.

FIDE Trainers' Commission (TRG)

Budget 2015 - Proposal

Dear Mr. Treasurer,

Here is our proposed budget for the year 2015, which is on the 110.000 €. Before we go on with the analysis of our applying 2015 budget (analysis in €currency), we have to inform you that this budget is based on the previous six years' experience of our Commission and covers all our and FIDE needs to operate properly. Here is the main analysis of our 2015 Budget proposal:

Here is the analysis of each of the above subjects, in details:

Analysis 1: As in the last year's budget this amount stays intact. Expenses of the Chairman and the Secretary are on 4.800 € each. That's a total of 9.600 €

Analysis 3: As in the last year's budget this amount stays intact. Expenses of handling the secretarial part of our Commission and prepare all kind of documents (projects, seminars, financial, etc) are on 12.000 €

Analysis 4: Six prizes (each cost 200 €) will be awarded to the FIDE Trainers' Award 2014, as it was exactly planned in the previous years. We will try to get more sponsoring and more prizes for this concept:

Budget 2015 - Proposal - Analysis 4 - FIDE Trainer' Award Prizes

Analysis 5: This will be the sixth year of a very successful project which deals with important Trainers' material that can be given and uploaded on FIDE/TRG's site. Twenty-four top trainers and authors will hand a survey in good English language and in Chessbase and Word format, around the last week of each month. The material will be editing and corrected by the Editorial and uploaded for free downloading in pdf format - two surveys per month. We think that this will be a nice presentation of the Trainers' work and it will help FIDE's website to receive many more hits. In the end of the year this material is used for publishing our annually Yearbook. We will decide on the Authors later. For each trainer the amount of 300 € will be paid and for the editor (pending) the amount of 800 €

Budget 2015 - Proposal - Analysis 5 - Trainers' Surveys in http://trainers.fide.com

2	Editorial	Pending	800	FIDE
*	Total Amount		8.000	8.000

Analysis 6: Following TRG Guide, we have to note that we are obliged to prepare the Trainers' Badges for Licences and new titles. As FIDE office is not able to go on with this, we have thought to cooperate with a third-part company to prepare them, with data that we will supply, as in the previous years. We estimate that for 2015 we will need around 700 badges (3.20 €~ per badge):

Budget 2015 - Proposal - Analysis 6 - Trainers' Badges
N	Justification	Person	Proposed	Source
1	Trainers' Badges (700)	Pending	2.250	FIDE
*	Total Amount		2.250	2.250

Analysis 7: Following TRG Guide, we have to note that we are obliged to prepare the Trainers' Pins for new trainers. We estimate that by the end of 2015 we will need around 700 pins (2,60 €~ per pin):

Budget 2015 - Proposal - Analysis 7 - Trainers' Pins
N	Justification	Person	Proposed	Source
1	Trainers' Pins (700)	Pending	1.850	FIDE
*	Total Amount		1.850	1.850

Analysis 8: As you perfectly know there is a huge amount of books (Syllabus & Yearbook) and badges & pins that we annually send to federations, seminars and licenced trainers. The cost is understandably high, but we barely can do something different, as these postages are described in TRG Guide:

Budget 2015 - Proposal - Analysis 8 - Postage Expenses
N	Justification	Person	Proposed	Source
1	Postage Expenses	Post Office	9.000	FIDE
*	Total Amount		9.000	9.000

Analysis 9: We do plan to have a seminar during the WYCC as usual (which is also co-sponsored by ARISF) and four seminars during the Continentals YCC. As we have implemented new Regulations on Captains/Trainers, we feel that we should be helpful in this direction:

Budget 2015 - Proposal - Analysis 9 - TRG Seminars
N	Justification	Person	Proposed	Source
1	WYCC (Fee & Air-Ticket)	Pending	4.000	FIDE

2	European YCC (Fee & Air-Ticket)	Pending	2.500	FIDE
3	Americas YCC (Fee & Air-Ticket)	Pending	2.500	FIDE
4	Asian YCC (Fee & Air-Ticket)	Pending	2.500	FIDE
5	Africa YCC (Fee & Air-Ticket)	Pending	2.500	FIDE
*	Total Amount		14.000	3.500

Analysis 10: We feel that our Commission should be gathering live once per year, as in the previous two years. For this purpose we feel that we should have a budget, as in previous editions:

Budget 2015 - Proposal - Analysis 10 - TRG Meeting
N	Justification	Person	Proposed	Source
1	Air Tickets	TRG Council	2.500	FIDE
2	Board & Lodging	TRG Council	2.000	FIDE
3	Other Expenses	TRG Council	500	FIDE
*	Total Amount		5.000	5.000

Analysis 11: As in the previous year, we plan to publish our annually Yearbook, which is distributed to federations and licenced trainers. The Yearbook contains all the articles written (and already paid) by various top-trainers (see Budget 5) and has been very successful already:

Budget 2015 - Proposal - Analysis 11 - FIDE Yearbook 2014
N	Justification	Person	Proposed	Source
1	TRG Yearbook - Proofing	Pending	1.000	FIDE
2	TRG Yearbook - Editorial/Designation	Pending	2.000	FIDE
3	TRG Yearbook - Publication (2.300 copies)	Pending	4.500	FIDE
*	Total Amount		7.500	7.500

Analysis 12: As we should run out of our main Syllabus which is distributed for free in our seminars, we need to make a reprint. But after 5 years some changes should be done as well, so we need to re-edit it:

Budget 2015 - Proposal - Analysis 12 - FIDE Syllabus (Main - Reprint)
N	Justification	Person	Proposed	Source
1	Publication (800 copies)	Pending	2.300	FIDE
2	Editing	Pending	700	FIDE
*	Total Amount		3.000	3.000

Analysis 12: This publication (~ 200 pages) will deal with the education of the certified trainers. As FIDE & TRG we are offering a second book annually to trainers and here is the budget:

Budget 2015 - Proposal - Analysis 13 - FIDE Trainers' Book
N	Justification	Person	Proposed	Source
1	Author	Pending	3.500	FIDE
2	Proofing	Pending	500	FIDE
3	Editorial/Designation	Pending	1.000	FIDE
4	Publication (2.300 Copies)	Pending	4.000	FIDE
*	Total Amount		9.000	9.000

Analysis 14: We do believe that we should supply our federations with extra important training material, focusing on all levels. But we do also believe that those books should be distributed only in pdf, as we will save enormous amount of money. We are thinking to prepare another five different pdf books, ready for printing, in good English. These books will be on 80 pages, continuing on the 2014 footsteps, called Advanced Chess School. We already tried many times in the past to get some extra sponsoring for this project, but we did fail:

Budget 2015 - Proposal - Analysis 14 - Extra Books in Pdf
N	Justification	Person	Proposed	Source
1	Pdf Books (5) - Authors	Pending	7.500	FIDE
2	Pdf Books (5) - Proofing	Pending	2.000	FIDE
3	Pdf Books (5) - Editorial/Designation	Pending	2.500	FIDE
4	Pdf Books (5) - Covers & Assistance	Pending	2.000	FIDE
*	Total Amount		14.000	14.000

Analysis 15: As we are applying for our 2015 budget quite early, we feel that there might be some extra late project(s) which might be useful for FIDE and TRG. So, we are asking for an extra amount to be approved for our budget, which might be used for an interesting extra project, as follows:

Budget 2015 - Proposal - Analysis 15 - Late Projects
N	Justification	Person	Proposed	Source
1	Late Projects	Pending	6.600	FIDE
*	Total Amount		6.600	6.600

Dear Mr. Treasurer,

We do hope that we presented a good and fair analysis on TRG and FIDE needs and we would like that TRG's proposed 2015 Budget (110.000 €) be approved. Keep in mind that TRG made a decent money-back for FIDE in the past years and we do believe that 2015 will be TRG's best year to work on projects that were long-awaited and queuing.

With kind regards

The Chairman
Adrian Mikhachishin

The Secretary
Efstratios Grivas

Councillor
Uwe Boensch

Councillor

ACTIVITIES OF TRG CHAIRMAN

1 TRG Chairman met in San Francisco ACF President Mrs. Ruth Harman. Discussed were Chess Academies regulations and cooperation between them, National Federations and TRG.

2 Meeting with Famous trainer and author IGM Sam Palatnik and discussion about Chess education in American Universities.

3 Meeting with School Association Chairman Mr.Kostiev. He has idea to activate Educational Programmes in Europe.

4 Meeting with ECU Chairman Candidate IGM Zurab Azmaiparashvili. Discussed were educational Programmes for Europe and summer camps developments.

5 Discussion with Armenian Chess Federation Vice Chairman IGM Smbat Lputian about results of chess education analysis. ACF Federation invites TRG to participate in Chess Educational Congress in Armenia in October 2014. TRG fully supports Armenian efforts to make chess important educational tool in ordinary schools.

6 Discussions with Bulgarian Academy of Sport Chess Department Chief FST Radislav Atanasov. Discussed were Chess education and TRG Awards. Mr. Atanasov proposed to establish some medal for all candidates for TRG Awards, as sign of trainers' high achievements. He believes that there are many valuable candidates and winner is just one.

Dear Adrian and all (I hope you forgive me for using your first name...), following our last emails, this one is to inform you of what I'm doing and to ask you some more questions (but the one that really interests me nowadays is the last one).

1) I started converting pdf surveys into pgn format. It's a rather long procedure, and I'm sorry for not being faster. Since I found some english mistakes, would anyone get any offense if I'll do some correction to the language, for what I'm able to?

2) It would be very interesting to read the trainers' seminars for the disabled. Does anyone from your Commission have a written (or recorded) copy of one of those seminars? It should be in english, I'm sorry, since I can't understand German...

3) You wrote me to think on something you could do (obviously as Chairman of your very helpful Commission, not necessarily yourself by person) to help us. I have long been looking for established methods for teaching chess to blind persons. I couldn't get any material on this matter from some western europe players, mostly from United Kingdom and France. Nor I could find any material on the very interesting program of the India Blind Chess Association (and they could get a lot of help from this kind of material, since the big number of blind players in India). It would be very helpful if you know something from Eastern Europe. It would be very interesting to know if in those ex-soviet countries there has ever been some specific method for teaching blind chess players. For instance, one of our italian BCA founders remembers the old Soviet team at the blind chess olympiads: he was, at the time, very impressed to see/know that they were not used to touch and explore their accessible chessboards: they just did their moves over them, then their hands stood under the table... This is rather interesting, from my point of view. In fact I did learn chess when sighted, played a lot, then stopped for more than 20 years to get my degree (I am a doctor and a psychiatrist, so I should be familiar with psychological issues). I came back to chess in 2008, but as a blind person, because of a tumor. When relearning chess, I asked myself if it would have been easier, or more useful, to get better in playing by touching the accessible chessboard, or by playng, let's say, "blindfolded", without touching it but for playing moves and for some control.

I studied there is a big difference in the way a blind person forms a spatial/visual map in his mind. Blind persons can only explore space sequentially, by touch. For instance, by going on a diagonal by my hands square by square. They can't have an immediate, global, forming of the map by seeing it. This may get players to prefer, in their minds/hands, going through diagonals rather than files, since, for instance, black squares on a diagonal are uniformly raised from the white squares. I also read a comment on a game played by two 2200 players (not that strong, but definitely not beginners), where one of them played, instead of Qf6-b6 in one move, Qf6-d8-b6 in two moves, without any useful reason for losing this tempo. It was supposed he could not see the sixth rank, so he played through what he could "see", the safest diagonal way.

So, my quest for this kind of material is also to find whether it may be useful to teach blind person's play without touching the board as soon as possible (after the absolute beginners stage, I'd say), as a way of forming a better spatial/visual image of the board, avoiding (as much it may be possible) this way the sequential way of exploring peculiar to blind people. It would be of great interest to know if some chess trainer did develop a method like this, or a method anyway for blind players. In Italy our Association will participate a medical conference on the rehabilitation (I use to say habilitation) of blind people by using chess, and we are looking for any kind of material allowable from countries where chess has been more thoroughly developed.

I am really sorry for being so long, but these are matters I'm really fond of!

Waiting for your always interesting and useful answer, best regards:)

Stefano

(Stefano Murgia)

Secretary of ASCI, the Italian Blind Chess Association

Dear Stefano,

Of course you can make any correction you feel like; our proofer is Kevin O'Connell and we try not really to 'interfere' in his work! On the disabled seminar we had in Berlin, I think that Thomas Luther can help you. On the other subjects you are mentioning, I do not have any real knowledge, so I will try to get this subject in TRG's meeting in Tromsø and ask some federations. Maybe Adrian knows something more.

I will get back to you after Tromsø.

All the best

Efstathiou

FIDE General Assembly Presidential Election and FIDE Academies

The ECF Board reiterates its support for Garry Kasparov as the next FIDE president. We firmly believe that Mr Kasparov's ticket, their integrity, vision and his status as the longest reigning World Chess Champion, will inspire and unite us to effectively promote chess.

The advent of FIDE Academies illustrates a significant difference between Mr Kasparov's approach to developing policy and the incumbent administration's approach. The current one-size-fits-all guidelines interfere with the internal affairs of some national chess federations, such as ours. For example, our strategy to develop mutually supportive cohorts of young players includes the incentive of national performance targets for players to achieve prior to representing their country in the official FIDE youth championships. Current guidelines allow FIDE Academies in England to circumvent those targets by sending unqualified players to represent their country in the official FIDE championships. Guidelines that encourage FIDE Academies to recommend Candidate Master titles directly to FIDE weakens the credibility of that title and undermines FIDE member federations. Additionally, our good standing in England as the national governing body for chess is threatened by conferring official status to groups that do not operate to accepted norms in England's sport, recreation or education sectors. Details of our draft policy for FIDE Academies to prosper in England may be seen on the ECF Forum at this link.

Colleagues in the FIDE General Assembly: Kindly reflect on the unintended consequences of allowing our international headquarters to override national federations. The ECF respectfully requests that you support our motion, 2.5 in the FIDE Trainers' Commission report, and reject item 2.4. Awarding FIDE Academy status in that case is premature.

This issue is an example of the dysfunction rendered by the incumbent leadership. A FIDE Presidential Board led by Mr Kasparov would rectify skewed relationships, build more cooperative and dynamic networks and transform our collective ethos. It is time to change.

Sainbayar Tserendorj
Founder
UK Chess Academy

Dear Mr Tserendorj,

This is further to my other letter dated today. I recognise you are disappointed at the delay in ECF's processing of your FIDE Academy application. I note that you chose to refer the matter to the FIDE Trainers' Commission (TRG); that TRG opted to refer the matter to the FIDE General Assembly; that TRG published email correspondence not intended for publication; and that your FIDE Academy application bears the ECF logo and the Chief Executive's name in a manner that may be easily misconstrued as ECF approval. The ECF did not receive any communication on this matter from TRG since the date of your letter to them, but we are now discussing it. I request your cooperation to ensure order to these proceedings.

The incident last year where the Delancey UK Schools Chess Challenge (UKSCC) inaccurately represented both the ECF Junior Selection Policy and my oral agreement with Mike Basman caused confusion and disappointment among players, parents and ECF officials. Whatever the intentions, that episode is an example of disharmony. We are attempting to re-establish harmony by written agreement with the UKSCC. Your FIDE Academy application is based on integration with the UKSCC. TRG regulations require FIDE Academies to operate in harmony. The ECF can legitimately report a harmonious operation upon a successful agreement. Until then, we cannot endorse that TRG criterion.

Your commitment to young chess players is laudable. We are pleased to see the UK Chess Academy active in England, participating in the ECF Council and seeking to operate in harmony. We also believe the present FIDE Academy regulations are flawed in that they add unnecessary risk to the reputation of chess in national jurisdictions where the TRG is unfamiliar; they alter the representational aspect and thereby erode the value of official championships; and they undermine national chess federations. I appreciate you may have a different view and that your motivation is to help children improve their. Please bear in mind that we are both working to improve English chess.

Let us also bear in mind that we are in the midst of FIDE presidential election campaigning. FIDE Academy regulations highlight a significant policy difference between the incumbent FIDE president and his challenger. The ECF has declared its support for Garry Kasparov partly based on issues arising from FIDE Academy regulations. You will be serving in Tromsø as an Olympiad arbiter and the FIDE delegate for the Mongolian Chess Federation, which has declared its support for your longtime friend and university colleague, Kirsan Ilyumzhinov. Your appeal directly to FIDE strains our working relationship because it adds to the pernicious effects of Mr Ilyumzhinov's other actions that have undermined the ECF. Those actions include Mr Ilyumzhinov's personal role in the AGON Memorandum affair, his statement to Russian media that falsely claimed England's support for his re-election, his campaign team's decision to meet with all federations in the British Isles and Ireland except for the ECF, and his publicised visit to the UK Chess Academy absent a courtesy call or notification to the ECF. Proceeding with a FIDE Academy application without the ECF's positive endorsement risks the appearance of favouritism due to your relationship Mr Ilyumzhinov and his official activities that bypass the ECF. Nonetheless, I hope we will work through the FIDE Academy issues and resume pulling together in the best interest of English chess.

Sincerely,

Sainbayar Tserendorj
Founder
UK Chess Academy

Dear Mr Tserendorj,

Terms on which we are prepared to endorse your application as a FIDE Academy are set out below. These terms form the basis of a future ECF policy applicable to all FIDE Academy applicants based in England. We currently have three FIDE Academy applications pending, with indications of more applications to follow. One pending application is our own. Of course, we are prepared to meet requirements in our own national federation policy.

The ECF encourages independent groups such as the UK Chess Academy to apply their entrepreneurial energies in a manner that promotes a positive image and harmonious provision of official chess in England. As such, these terms are designed to help FIDE Academy applicants comply with the Laws of England and Wales that address safeguarding children and vulnerable adults and conform to service industry norms. Bearing in mind that ECF policy is developing, the ECF Board is agreeable to recommend that FIDE designate the UK Chess Academy as a FIDE Academy provided that you satisfy the conditions below. In view of your appeal to FIDE Trainers' Commission, I will also communicate directly with FIDE.

The ECF's policy is that on FIDE Academy applicants in England must:

1. Maintain membership in the ECF Council in good standing. On initial application, obtain a recommendation from another organisational member of the ECF Council, ideally a constituent unit (AKA regional chess union) or county chess association.
2. Register and maintain good standing as a company or charity in UK's Companies House or the Charity Commission, as appropriate. Provide the ECF with a copy of the applicant's public liability insurance policy.
3. Display the ECF logo alongside the FIDE logo, with equal prominence, wherever it may appear in official papers, literature and website. In the event the ECF enters a general sponsorship arrangement, display the logo of that sponsor with the ECF and FIDE logos. Obtain the ECF's permission before entering into any independent sponsor relationship.
4. Pay the ECF an annual registration fee equal to fifty percent of the fee paid to FIDE.
5. Publish the following statement on the FIDE Academy's website: "The [name of FIDE Academy] earned its status as a FIDE Academy by virtue of an endorsement by the English Chess Federation (ECF), the national governing body for chess in England, and confirmation by the World Chess Federation's (FIDE) Trainers' Commission. The ECF endorsed the [name of FIDE Academy] after being satisfied that [name of FIDE Academy] met legal and ECF standards for child protection, fair-trading, chess training and customer satisfaction. The ECF and FIDE review the [name of FIDE Academy]'s performance periodically; however neither the ECF nor FIDE bear any responsibility for [name of FIDE Academy]'s performance or actions. [name of FIDE Academy] trainees and their parents are welcome to write directly to the ECF Director of Junior Chess and Education with positive or negative feedback about their experience with [name of FIDE Academy]. On behalf of the English Chess Federation, I wish you great success training with [name of FIDE Academy]. [ECF official's name, title, date]"

6. Designate and train a Child Protection Officer to work with the ECF Child Protection Officer. Certify in writing to the ECF Child Protection Officer that every chess trainer and employee in a legally eligible role (e.g., a position that involves regularly training children or vulnerable adults) obtains an enhanced check from the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) before serving in that role. In the event a DBS Certificate contains an adverse entry or in the event a prospective trainer or employee is not eligible for a DBS check (e.g., visiting foreign trainer), conduct a risk assessment signed by the FIDE Academy Child Protection Officer and acceptable to the ECF Child Protection Officer before allowing that person to serve in an eligible role. Risk assessments for visiting foreign trainers should include a police check from the jurisdiction of that person's established residence. (Note: This provision needs review in light of the Disclosure and Barring Service's "A guide to eligibility for criminal record checks" of May 2014 and standards within the education, sports and recreation sectors.)
7. Ensure all FIDE Academy trainers who are FIDE-registered in England (ENG) or resident in England are ECF accredited coaches. Ensure at least one FIDE Academy trainer is also a qualified FIDE trainer. FIDE Academy trainers who accompany children abroad in loco parentis are expected to obtain UK-recognised qualifications in first aid and child protection, as standard in the education industry. FIDE Academy trainers will be expected to qualify in a future ECF coaching qualification programme.
8. Ensure every FIDE Academy trainee maintains an individual membership in the ECF or other national chess federation participating in the British Isles Coordinating Committee (BICC). FIDE Academies may make exceptions for their trainees visiting from beyond the jurisdiction of BICC federations.
9. For every internal tournament submitted for FIDE rating, also submit that tournament for ECF grading.
10. Consult with the ECF Director of Junior Chess and Education before registering FIDE Academy trainees for any official chess championship tournament recognised by FIDE, the European Chess Union (ECU) or the Commonwealth Chess Association (CCA), such as the World Youth, European Youth, World Schools and European Schools. The ECF often establishes selection criteria to inspire cohorts of young English players to achieve standards before they accept the honour of representing their country in official championships. These criteria are often a minimum ECF grade or FIDE rating, or performance in a specified tournament or series of tournaments. Where the ECF publishes such criteria, ensure all FIDE Academy trainees whom the FIDE Academy registers independently meet the ECF's published selection criteria.
11. Organise ENG-registered players in a manner that promotes a spirit of unity among all ENG-registered players to the satisfaction of the ECF's head of delegation. Such measures usually include a group photograph wearing England shirts and provision of in-tournament coaching support at a ratio of four players to one coach. Ensure all FIDE Academy participants in official FIDE, ECU and CCA championships (trainees, players, coaches, trainers, parents, accompanying persons) acknowledge they are subject to the ECF's (Junior Directorate) Code of Conduct and FIDE's Code of Ethics.
12. Consult with the ECF Director of Junior Chess and Education before submitting to the FIDE Trainers' Commission (TRG) any application for a FIDE Candidate Master title; and provide a copy of the application to the ECF.
13. Maintain a high standard of customer satisfaction. Cooperate with periodic reviews of FIDE Academy performance conducted by the ECF or FIDE. Cooperate in harmony.

Another condition specific to the UK Chess Academy is successful conclusion of a written agreement between the ECF and your partner organisation, the Delancey UK Schools Chess Academy. The rationale for this is set out in separate correspondence.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,

Phil Ehr

Tromso, Norway

Dear Chairman and Secretary,

I would like to inform you with basic true facts between UK Chess Academy and English Chess Federation.

- I joined UK Chess Challenge organising team in 2004 (where we have 55 000+ players). My all 4 children play chess and as a chess player and organiser's skills I was welcomed by M. Basman's (organiser and founder of the UK Chess Challenge, started 1996) team. That time Mr P.Ehr was as a parent of junior chess players.
- Since 2004, I was Coach and Trainer for Wey Valley team (Surrey) – most successful junior teams in the UK. And we produced many Champions. And I was in charge arbiting all events.
- While organising our junior events I followed and respected ECF's rules and regulations. I attended Arbiter's seminar organised by ECF and passed exams, and rewarded ECF Arbiter title. I was part of the Arbiters team in 2 British Championships and also in important tournaments such as Hastings and London Chess Classics.
- In 2011 Mr P.Ehr was elected as Junior Director of ECF and we started to co-operate in junior chess improvement, including to introduce membership within ECF! We shared our ideas and had many meetings regarding ECF membership. Home Director of Chess Mr A.Raooff was the main initiator of the Membership scheme.
- Our main aim was to send our juniors for international events and I shared my idea with Mr Ehr and he made a mutual agreement with M.Basman, the President of the UKCA. We provided 115 name of our tournament winners to represent England. And 2012 first time in history England sent a delegation of 24 players to WSCC to Romania. I was part of the Coaching team.
- Before and during the WSCC 2012 our parents approached us with complaints about ECF's overcharging for training and allocating coaches with no experience. We started our idea to set up a training ground i.e Academy and group of parents worked with us to prepare the project.
- In 2013 WSCC 48 players went to Greece and same situation repeated about charge and coaching quality and also poor management. BUT as we thought we had reasonably good understanding with Mr P.Ehr we continued our co-operation.

- In October 2013 Mr P.Ehr was elected as Chief Executive and Mr. Laurence Cooper was elected as new Junior Director. Mr P.Ehr confirmed us his policy ie his mutual agreement with UKCA will be continued!!
- New President Mr Paulson and Executive Director P.Ehr impressed their interest to co-operate with us and we agreed to provide our proposal of co-operation. We handed it at the ECF's board meeting. (proposal attached)
- Internal miscommunication within ECF and incompetence of Mr P.Ehr to lead his own board members was main reason to progress our cooperation and to approve our proposal. I was in consistent contact with his the new Junior Director and Director of Membership ECF.
- During our GIGA and TERA finals 2013 Mr M. Basman continued to promote ECF and informed our players and parents they will represent their country in international events such as WYCC, WSCC and ESCC. And we sent our nominees In September 2013 to ECF ie P.Ehr. After the election miscommunication between new Junior Director and Executive Director of ECF created big misleading information for our players and parents. Main reason was ECF did not want to send big number of players to FIDE events, as they were not competence.
- The UK Chess Academy has Public Liability Insurance through ECF and Police Number: 23556127 CCI.

Warm regards,

Sainbayar Tserendorj, IA, FI
